

SABRINA ROXANNA GHEISSARI

SYNOPSIS:

I took a big risk and left a promising career at a reputable bank in NYC to move to Tokyo and learn how to code. It was the best decision I have made and taught me to trust my gut. I am now moving back to NYC more determined than ever. After much due diligence, I am an aspiring Product Manager. I am thrilled to pivot into a career where I will feel challenged daily, and very excited for a fresh learning opportunity.

LE WAGON - TOKYO, JAPAN

SEPTEMBER 2019 - DECEMBER 2019

SABRINA-GHEISSARI.COM (Full Stack Developer)

- Used Ruby, Middleman and Netlify to build my personal portfolio showcasing my accomplishments. First solo project.

TRAVVA.ME (Product Designer)

- Worked in a team to create a solution for travelers needs. Personally developed the itinerary page (full-stack).
- Led user story workflow and helped the team to brainstorm and identify mutually agreeable product features to prioritize.
- Led the product vision and design. My first deep learning opportunity for front-end engineering (Javascript, CSS, Bootstrap).

FITPASS (Lead Developer)

- Acted as lead developer for my team's first showcase of a true marketplace, replicating the company ClassPass.
- First deep learning opportunity for back-end engineering (Ruby and SQL). Led the design of the studios index page.

SABBY SNACKS (Full Stack Developer)

- First project at Le Wagon to create a functioning CRUD application. Allows you to add cocktails to the Mystery Machine...

BROWN BROTHERS HARRIMAN - NYC AND BOSTON, USA

Portfolio Specialist (Associate)
